

This elective course was originally designed to familiarize FAA field inspectors with the intricacies of rotary wing aircraft (helicopters), and it has become a popular elective course for PIA's full-time students. The course provides an interesting look into the history of helicopters, the peculiar aerodynamics of rotorcraft, and helicopter flight controls and basic engine installations.